

19th Annual Diabetes Symposium

Friday, April 22, 2022 • 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Deadline for registration is Wednesday, April 20. Registration fee is $20. This is a virtual event only.

Management of Inpatient Hyperglycemia and Diabetes Management of Hyperglycemic Crises: DKA and HHS

Guillermo Umpierrez, MD, CDCES, MACP, FACE is an award winning physician and professor who currently serves as Professor of Medicine in the Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism at the Emory University School of Medicine, the Director of Clinical Research for the Diabetes and Endocrinology Division at Grady Health Care System, the Director of the Grady Memorial Hospital Clinical Research Unit at Atlanta-CTSA Clinical Interactions Network and as an Adjunct Professor at Touro University College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Weight Neutral Approaches for Individuals with Diabetes: The Why and How

Carolyn Fisher, PhD is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist at Eating and Behavioral Health Associates, LLC in Columbus, Ohio. She is a board certified Licensed Clinical Psychologist, board certified in Biofeedback and an American Diabetes Association Certified Mental Health Provider.

Calculating and Adjusting Insulin Dosing by Injection or Pump

Lisa Gilreath, RD, CDCES is a Registered Dietitian and Certified Diabetes Care and Education Specialist and currently serves as Clinical Senior Hospital Diabetes Educator for Sharecare and Ballad Health Diabetes Treatment Center. With over 35 years of experience, Lisa specializes in diabetes management, health risk management, motivation and behavior change.

Integrating Diabetes and Mental Health with Body Health-Assessment Tools & Coping Strategies

Beverly Thomassian, RN, MPH, CDCES, BC-ADM is the Founder and President of Diabetes Education Services in Chico, CA, an assistant professor at Touro University and a visiting professor at CSU Chico. She has served as a diabetes nurse specialist for the past 29 years and is a certified Diabetes Care and Education Specialist, as well as Board Certified in Advanced Diabetes Management.

Covid & Diabetes: Lessons Learned

Raja Alexander Hanania, R.Ph, CDM, LDE, CDCES, BCPS, FISHP is an award winning Registered Pharmacist in critical care and diabetes care at Indiana University Health Bloomington Hospital with over 24 years of hospital pharmacy experience. He is a board-certified pharmacotherapy specialist, certified disease manager in diabetes, and a certified diabetes educator. He currently serves as an Adjunct Assistant Professor at Purdue University, Butler University, Manchester University and Chicago State University- Colleges of Pharmacy, as well as an Adjunct Faculty Lecturer at Indiana University-School of Medicine.

Any interested physicians, nurse practitioners, registered and licensed practical nurses, physical therapists, registered dietitians, pharmacists and other health professionals are encouraged to participate.

Please click here to register.

For more information, please call
423.844.2954.

Ballad Health is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. Ballad Health designated this live event for a maximum of 6 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits TM. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Ballad Health is accredited as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.